

Maybe, yeah, I think that it isn't appropriate to weigh in on the particular case because it could end up going to faculty senate. In fact, as an adjudication and then it would come up to me, etc etc.

15:20:03

But I think what what I can say and I think that people know this and some people are not happy about this but you know I do, I am a strong believer in it free speech.

15:20:14

I, you know, you know, came to this country in part because I was in a country that didn't allow it.

15:20:22

So I'm, I'm a very strong but free speech as an individual means you know if you want to, you know, if you want to put something up on your, you know, you know, personal Twitter account, or whatever.

15:20:38

I mean, as you know, I'm going to, you know, I may well, you know, tweet back so horrible I think it is etc.

15:20:42

If you want to, you know, Stand on a street corner. And, you know, give your opinion, that's fine, but I, you know, a syllabus is a very different matter.

15:20:55

And I think you can even see some of that, if you look at some of the some of what a up has talked about that what you say. As a faculty member, you know, anything that you put on a syllabus, and anything that you put on a blackboard in your classroom